Mrs. J. M. DOUGLAS left on Saturday for a visit to her home in the old country.

Miss CONNOR left on Saturday's train for Toronto, where she will visit friends, returning in the fall.

C. R. STOVEL, of Prince Albert, formerly editor of the Advocate of that place, arrived in town on Friday on a brief visit.

A LARGE lot of fur brought in from Dunvegan by two traders, Legendre and Ambrose Grey, will be put up for competition to-day.

THERE was a hot time in town yesterday. The government meteorological thermometer registered 94 in the shade, the greatest degree of heat ever registered by the thermometer here.

T. McLELLAN's fur, brought in from down the Athabasca, was put up for sale by competition, but withdrawn, as the reserve bid which was on it was not reached. The highest bids were $1,314.45 for one lot and $238.00 for another.

AVEN MORELY arrived from the Jasper pass on Saturday last with a pack of fur, consisting of 136 martins, 91 beaver, 18 black bear, 1 grizzly bear, 6 wolverine, 4 lynx and 3 musk. The lot was put up for competition to-day and sold to Ross Bros. for $961.75.

AN Ottawa despatch to the Free Press of the 15th, says: The supreme court this morning gave judgment in Heimick vs. Edmonton. The appeal was allowed with costs, judgment to be entered for plaintiff for damages as assessed by Judge Bonneau in dissenting from the judgment in the court below.

F. LeMOINE, contractor for the masonry work of the bridge here, left for his home in Montreal on Saturday's train, his portion of the bridge work being completed. The piers and abutments are now ready to receive the superstructure and work on the filling in for the grades is in progress and will be completed shortly.

IMMIGRATION Agent Sutter returned last week from a tour of inspection through the Lacombe district. Between 40 and 50 new settlers have located in the vicinity of Lacombe since April, and many who settled there from Washington, but became dissatisfied and returned to the States, have again returned to take up land and locate permanently there.

TRAIN time on the C. & E. has been slightly changed. All trains will now arrive here at 5.30 in the evening and leave at 5.30 the following morning, being a difference of 40 minutes earlier in arrival and departure. The alteration was made owing to a change of time on the main line. Mails will close here at 7 o'clock in the morning. The change takes effect to-day.

F. A. FRINGS, C. E. L. Greah and E. Somerville, composing the Peace River Transportation Co., together with Messrs. Taylor and Darral, leave for the Landing to-day. They take out the steam launch "Kenneth L." and intend taking it up the Athabasca to Slave lake post and thence overland to the Peace, on which river they will ply during the summer. They intend taking the boat through the shallows and rapids on Slave river by the use of block and tackle.

By mail we received two letters on the same subject, namely, notifying us of the whereabouts of the missing David Reid, about whose disappearance we made mention in a late issue. Reid, it seems, is now in a late issue. Reid, it seems, is now in a late issue. Reid, it seems, is now in a late issue.

Mrs. SHAND is in receipt of a letter from her husband, Jas. Shand, who left the Landing on the 19th of last June with a party consisting of M. Velgus, N. Atkinson, P. W. Wolf and himself, bound for the upper Liard. The letter was written from the junction of the Liard and Dease rivers on the 24th of March last and came out by the coast, arriving here on the 23rd of last month. In it Mr. Shand states that they could make from $3 to $4 a day on the bars where they then were but intended pushing on to the Francis where they were confident of making from $12 to $15 a day as they had information to that effect. The letter was probably brought to the coast by Velgus who went through to Telegraph Creek with Lee and Pelly, members of other parties which left here last summer.

Is a letter to the Indian Head Vidette from Dawson City, dated April 21st, Mr. G. H. V. Bulley, M. L. A., writes as follows: "I expect to be back early in the summer. I am making enquiry as to the possibility of going up the Polly river and thence overland to Edmonton. Old guides assure me that the trip can be made in remarkable time, and if I am satisfied that it can, I will undertake the trip so that I can lay before the assembly definite information concerning a route which, if opened, would be of immense value to the Assiniboian farmers and the Alberta ranchers. I can't say that the trip is any more inviting than the one just completed, but I imagine that it would be certainly interesting and the information gained would be important, whether favorable or otherwise."

The Naperville (Ill.) Clarion contains a letter written from here by Morris L. Willard, of the Yukon Valley Prospecting & Mining Co., in which he has the following to say of Edmonton and its climate: "This climate is simply grand; sunshine every day and plenty of it. The sun sets at about 8.45 p. m. mountain time, and rises about 4 in the morning. I sat in front of the hotel last night and read a newspaper until after 10 o'clock without any artificial light and had on light summer clothing and found it plenty warm enough. This is a country of wonderful resources. Within 40 rods of this hotel there are three coal shafts that deliver good soft coal at $2.00 per ton; go down to the river, which is at the mouth of the coal shafts, and you can wash gold out of the sand bars at its mouth but not in paying quantities. Plenty of good timber grows close to town and the finest lands to grow crops on or for grazing surround it. The climate is so healthy and invigorating that it is claimed they had to kill a man so as to start a graveyard. Of course, you think I have the western fever, and I will admit I have, for after seeing what I am permitted to behold, I should consider myself an imbecile should I fail to appreciate the opportunities this country offers."

A new customs' office is being erected west of McDougall & Secord's store.

VINCENT SMITH, teacher of White Fish lake, was in town last week.

J. H. ROSS, of Regina, commissioner of public works, will arrive on to-night's train.

A MEETING of the Edmonton bicycle club will be held in their tent on the race track to-night at 8.30 p. m.

MAJOR MCGIBSON, of Fort Qu'Appelle, inspector of Indian agencies, came up on Friday's train on an official visit.

ALEXANDER TAYLOR has been re-appointed deputy clerk of the court, by Laurence J. Clark, who succeeded E. R. Rogers as clerk.

The Edmonton bicycle club will hold a special run on Wednesday evening, June 22nd, for ladies and gentlemen. They will start from the grand stand on the race track at 7.15 p. m. sharp and will ride to Belmont, where refreshments will be served.

REV. MR. HAUSER, of Winnipeg, will hold service in German in the Presbyterian church here next Tuesday evening. The reverend gentleman came in from Winnipeg on Wednesday last and is now on a visit among the German settlers in the Beaver Hills.

The Helpman party, who started for the Peace river over the snow last winter, were just arriving at the Slave lake post on Saturday evening. About 30 of his friends with hard luck in the Swan Hills and were greatly delayed there. Major Helpman was preparing to return to Edmonton and is expected in a few days.

A VERY successful farewell supper was tendered Walter Ross, of Fort Saskatchewan, at the Mansion house, at the Fort, on Saturday evening. About 30 of his friends sat down to the splendid supper which had been prepared; and speeches, song and story served to pass the evening pleasantly away. Mr. Ross leaves in a few days for the Peace river, where he will enter into a trading business.

Wagon comes from the Peace river crossing of the drowning of a man named Donald McFarlane, a resident of that district. The deceased was mining last fall on the Smokey when the boat in which he and his brother were, upset. The brother managed to reach the shore, but the deceased never again appeared. The body was recovered this spring on the Peace river, about 15 miles below the crossing, and was buried there.

G. W. LANG, of San Antonio, Texas, who started out from here in the early spring with a band of fifty oxen and thirty horses, bound for the Liard river, died on the 3rd instant between Clearwater river and the 3rd and 4th bridges at the latter place, on the following day. The deceased was about seventy-five years of age and was afflicted with dropsy, from which disease he died. The outfit will continue forward in charge of the sons of the deceased who accompanied the party.

At the twenty-third annual communion of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba, A. F. & A. M., Sheriff Murphy, Moscomin, N. W. T., was elected Grand Master for the ensuing year; and H. J. Eberts, of Winnipeg, was elected Deputy Grand Master. The D. D. G. M. for the Masonic district in the Territories are F. S. Proctor, of Fort Qu'Appelle, for district No. 8; Major Cotton, of Battleford, for district No. 6; G. G. Ives, of McLeod, for district No. 10, and Vauvart, of Calgary, for district No. 9. Mr. A. B. Gillies, M. L. A., of Whitecourt, was elected grand steward and H. H. Campkin was elected grand senior deacon. The next annual meeting will be held at Regina in June 1899.

A. J. WHITE, of Battle Creek, Michigan, returned to town on Thursday evening from a point beyond Hudson's Hope where he had gone with a party of gold seekers. Mr. White said that the trip to St. John was very easy, but beyond that, he says, no trail exists to Fort Graham. A number of parties started up the river from St. John, but the water rose and made further progress very difficult. He left his party beyond Hudson's Hope and was, at the time he turned back, only seventy-five miles from the Finlay river. He has not by any means given up the trip and has nothing to say against the route, but on the contrary intends going in again next winter up the ice on the Peace which he considers is the easiest way to make the trip if a large pack stake is to be taken in. The mistake many parties make is in taking too small a stock of provisions as the appetite of a traveller develops on the trail is phenomenal.

RECEPTION AND BANQUET.

Frank Oliver, M. P., will arrive on to-night's train and will be met by the town council, members of the legislative assembly, council of the board of trade and the Edmonton brass band, and escorted to his home.

An open-air public meeting will be held on the race course on Thursday evening next at 7 p. m., when speeches will be made by Mr. Oliver and others and the evening will conclude with a grand public banquet in the Robertson hall.

The committee are doing everything in their power to make this the largest meeting and banquet ever held in Edmonton. The menu is the best that can be procured and music will be discoursed in the hall by an orchestra.

The citizens of the south side, assisted by their band, have also arranged to meet Mr. Oliver at the station and escort him to the ferry.

FROM THE PEACE.

A number of Klondikers, who started out from here in the early spring for Peace river and beyond, returned to town on Friday evening. The returned travellers are: J. T. Montgomery, leader of the Toronto party, which left here with the combined boat and sleigh of which Mr. Montgomery was the inventor, Messrs. Parker, Banks and White, of the Sunny South, Fugard and Battle Creek, Mich., parties respectively, and Geo. Smith, M. A. Billinger and son and B. P. Simonton. Messrs. Banks and White went beyond the crossing and into the interior. The former, with his partner, attempted to reach the Nelson river but their boat was upset and their supplies, except a bag of flour, lost overboard. After suffering considerable privation they reached St. John. Mr. White was with the Lang party and returned from Dunvegan after the death of the leader of the expedition. J. S. Montgomery's party went down the river from the crossing. He was anxious to go on up, but the other members of the party were set on going down stream, which they did, so Mr. Montgomery returned. About twenty parties went down stream from the crossing. The first outfit to leave was the Gross party, on the 3rd of May, and others followed every day after. The first rush of parties to the crossing raised some commodities to Dawson City prices. Six-inch spikes sold at 50c a lb and were scarce at that, oakum was $2 and pitch 30c a lb. Mr. Montgomery may return north again in a short time.

..War and Rolled Oats..

O'er earth's greatest Empire the Union Jack floats, And this proudly due to the use of Rolled Oats. While war news ro thunders, one can't keep it quiet, The States battles for freedom are won with this diet.

With Great Britain, The States, and Rolled Oats in alliance To all other Nations we could bid bold defiance. No union in Europe our position could mar, If the Oats be well branded with Brackman & Ker.

Remember Dargai and remember Findlater, Whose "Pap" was Rolled Oats from the hand of his Mater, And Hobson, the gallant, each patriot soul fills, Oh! such men are the outcome of National Mills.

Rolled Oats islands rich like the Philippines gain, And National Stuff will free Cuba from pain; Porto Rico is settled as one of wars lines, While Our Cereals, well rolled, secure Carolines.

If our brand of Rolled Oats had died been of Spain, That country would safely have guarded the Maine; Then proclaim with loud voices, and sound it afar, B. & K. National Oats will an end put to War.

FRANK OLIVER, PROPRIETOR.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JUNE 20TH, 1898.

LENGTHENING THE SESSION.

Speech by Frank Oliver, M. P.,
House of Commons, June 10th, '98.
From Hansard:

Mr. Oliver. For myself, and on behalf of other members who live at long distances from Ottawa, I desire to register my objection to this extension of leave of absence, and also to its being made permanent. I think perhaps the majority of the members who reside within a comparatively short distance from the capital hardly appreciate the position in which those of us who live at a very long distance from here are placed by the extension of the session which occurs by reason of the frequent absence of members who live near the capital in attending to their own business, while the business they should attend to in parliament is dragging on account of their absence. There are only a few members who live at a very great distance from Ottawa.

An hon. member. You get more mileage.

Mr. Oliver. The hon. gentleman says we make it up in mileage. I should like to put the matter in this way. We are not here working on salary. We have our own private business to attend to, and as we do not always expect to members of parliament, if we do not keep our private business during the period we are members, we lose our means of livelihood. It is more than any matter of salary. It is a matter not only of our present, but of our future that is involved. As members who live near the capital do not at all—and this is not due to bad intentions—appreciate the position in which we are placed, I take this opportunity of placing it before them. Any member may make arrangements to carry on his business for a reasonable period during his absence, and if so, the indemnity received is ample; but if the time is extended, as it has been extended this year, to a period of practically five months, it is impossible for any member, under ordinary circumstances, to arrange for a proper carrying on of his business in his absence for that period. So it is more than a matter of indemnity, mileage or money payment; it is a matter involving to those living at a distance the ruin of their business, if the session is continued beyond a reasonable time. Having taken upon ourselves the responsibilities of members of parliament, we are prepared to sustain that loss, if it is the interest of the country. If public business require our attendance during five, or even six months, we are prepared to give it, for we are under contract with the people to render it; but if it is extended to merely meet the views of private members who are able, by reason of living near the capital, to go home and attend to their business while they are supposed to be attending to the country's business, we object to it, and protest against it most strongly. Ever measure which tends to relieve members of parliament from their absolute duty of attending here day after day is an injustice to those who are unable, owing to their circumstances, to avail themselves of the privilege those members enjoy. I think it is only just and fair that the position of hon. members from a distance should be placed before the house for the consideration of private members and the government, so that they will understand the very great injustice being done to those members by any unnecessary extension of the term of parliament.

SESSION NOTES.

OTTAWA, June 11, '98.

At last. Business is to be concluded to-day and prorogation is fixed for Monday. The senate has withdrawn their amendment to the franchise act providing for appeals to county court judges in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Manitoba and the commons has agreed to accept the senate's amendment providing for a ballot vote in Prince Edward Island. This arrangement allows the plebiscite bill to go through as originally intended and the vote will be on comparatively new lists without the country being put to great expense for preparation of new lists as it would have been under the old franchise act.

The senate killed the bill to take $300,000 from the fund resulting from the sale of school lands in Manitoba and pay it over in bulk to the provincial government. It is understood that this action of the senate has the approval of a number of French liberals, who object to the money being paid over unless under guarantee that a proportion shall go to the support of Catholic schools. They did not criticise the measure in the house, but are understood to be well pleased with the action of the senate.

The irrigation bill was amended by the senate to allow the irrigation commissioners to waive on behalf of intending irrigators, the heavy initial expenditures for plans, maps, etc., that are required by the terms of the bill. These initial expenditures were a heavy burden upon irrigators, especially those on a small scale, and have tended to retard the progress of irrigation in Southern Alberta.

The preference allowed in the tariff to West India sugar has been extended to sugar from all British colonies in deference to the demand of the Vancouver sugar refinery which has to import raw sugar from Southern Pacific countries.

The Northwest Central railway bill was amended this morning to compel the construction of ten miles of railway this season and ten miles more by the first of August next. This was achieved by Richardson and other western members taking measures to block the bill for the session unless the provision were inserted.

ALIEN LABOR.

House of Commons, June 10th.
From Hansard:

Mr. Oliver.—I would like to say that so far as my information goes, and I made particular inquiries along the line of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway in Alberta, the enforcement of the alien labor law has been very satisfactory; and that as a matter of fact a large number of laborers and contractors who had come over from the States to get work on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway from Lethbridge west, had been compelled to go back to the States without getting work. That being the fact, the people in that part of the country are well satisfied with the alien labor law, and pleased with the measure of its enforcement as far as it went. I would like to go further, however, and say that I believe the people of the Territories are desirous of seeing a continuation of that enforcement. They are in favor of an alien labor law. Particularly our railway men feel sore if privileges are accorded to alien laborers on this side of the line which are not accorded to them when they go across. There are special facilities for exchanging railroad labor that do not exist in other branches. Railroad men are to some extent a close corporation, they keep a better tally on that kind of thing than other classes of laborers do, and it would be well for the government to keep a good tally on that particular feature of the alien labor question. Railroadmen are a trade to a large extent and railroaders look for the fullest protection that the law affords them, and I think that they are entitled to it.

THE LOST IS FOUND.

Bear's Hill, June 17, '98.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR: Seeing in the last BULLETIN that the whereabouts of a David Reid was causing some anxiety, I would say that on Sunday, 5th instant, a delegate by the name of Reid floated past Bear's Hill at a rate which should get him to Calgary within the time allowance. He mentioned that he was looking for light and that the kerosene business at Edmonton was not much to his liking and his health failing he had decided to go south again. He was supplied here with a few necessary articles and left the same night. He appeared to be in good health.

Yours truly,
S. SMITH.

STONY PLAIN.

Our farmers are looking anxiously for rain. If it does not come soon the crops this year will be light.

Sidney Truscott's many friends were sorry to learn of his accident on Wednesday evening. When out riding that evening he had his collar bone broken by his horse falling and rolling over him. We hope he may recover rapidly.

McKinlay's saw mill has resumed operations. The mill-hands are said to be professional horse shoe throwers, but they are going to meet their Waterloo when the teachers take a hand in. The contracts of roadwork on the Plain are nearing completion. Messrs. McCauley, M. L. A. and F. K. Gibson were out this week inspecting the work done by the contractors. They expressed themselves as satisfied.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Vernon Mott is building a new house on his ranch at Buffalo lake.

Our popular dentist, Dr. A. H. Goodwin, of Edmonton, made a very successful trip here the last of May and will again revisit us the last of this month.

Our two teachers, Mr. Laidman and Miss Morphe, attended the teachers' institute at Red Deer.

Percy Switzer met with a serious accident last week. He had his foot cut quite badly with an axe but is now doing nicely. Sidney McLeod has returned from the Kootenay and will again take up his residence here. He was accompanied by a young man from Prince Edward Island who will take up a ranch.

A new settler, Mr. Eldred, has arrived from Dakota with about 50 cows and 20 horses. He will locate near the town. Another new settler and wife arrived last week with a large number of cattle and effects. They located in a few days. Two thoroughbred stock raisers in Ontario are looking at our country with the intention of locating.

The young people of Lacombe had a very enjoyable picnic at Gull lake on the 4th.

Mr. Youmans, of the Indian reserve paid a short visit to Lacombe. A local sub-agency of Dominion lands has been organized in Lacombe, Mr. Vickerson, agent.

A base ball club was organized for the benefit of those not belonging to the foot ball team. The road work of the statute labor district here has commenced. Finlay Watson has charge of the government road machine, and as quite a substantial amount of money is to be expended, no doubt there will be a great improvement in many of the new trails.

The Metho list conference which recently met at Winnipeg, has allowed the Rev. E. J. Chegwinn to remain here another year making his fifth year at Lacombe.

Quite a number of shade trees have been planted by our citizens, which add very much to the general appearance of the town.

James Hayden while playing foot ball on the 13th fell over a dog and broke his collar bone. Dr. Sharpe gave the necessary medical attendance. Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy were presented with a young son on the 13th.

The farmers are rejoicing over the good rain they have just had.

WITH THE NORTH BOUND BOATS.

Grand Rapids, May 29, '98.

(From our own correspondent.)

On the 18th of May, boats to the number of sixty-four left the rapids here, practically one fleet, bound north. Some guides had a round dozen of boats to chaperone, while others had but two, some four and others six. The system used was a good one and speaks highly for the good judgment of the pilots. A pilot would steer the lead boat and two or three more would follow him as close as was considered prudent. If one of the consort was a large boat or a small boat with a large draught of water, a steersman was placed aboard to steer her. At the rapids the pilots would run one boat at a time and in this way every boat that left here in the fleet I speak of, reached McMuray safely. A few accidents happened, but none of a serious nature. Thos. Bowen, a pilot, met with the only accident that befel any member of this large flotilla. A boat was being snubbed to a tree on the bank by an inexperienced man, a member of one of the parties, and Bowen, seeing the way it was being done and the danger that would accrue, rushed up to the tree. He was a little too late, for just as he reached the tree the line drew taut and the current at this point, (it being 300 yards above the Big Cascade rapids) is very swift and when the boat tightened upon the line something had to give. In this case it was the tree; which was torn out by the roots and just as Bowen reached it the trunk swung around and landed on his neck and shoulders, putting him out of the pilot business for a few hours. Drs. Buck and Dillingbrough attended him and he is now on deck again little the worse for wear. Drs. Buck and Dillingbrough have done enough free doctoring to entitle them to a large immediate, as well as future, reward. If any men deserve gold these men certainly do. It's the whole-souled, gratis business you read about and seldom see. Their practice here has also an amusing side. About every half day some old pilot or riverman will get a very bad cramp and one of the doctors will be brought to see him and, through an interpreter, the sick man will tell that he is a subject to those attacks and that there is a remedy, but as he cannot speak English he has forgotten the name. The doctor, on being asked to name over the different medicines likely to be beneficial will eventually get around to "hot drops and ginger" and its worth the trip here to see the old rascals eyes blink as he nods an eager assent.

From Grand rapids to the Brule the longest stretch of smooth water is experienced. The distance is something over twenty miles. These rapids are not considered dangerous by the guides, though if one were to judge the degree of danger by the expression on some of the Klondikers faces, you would suppose they had been taking desperate chances. After getting past the Brule the next fifteen miles was spent by the gold hunters in exchanging confidences as to how they felt when shooting the Brule. They would also enquire of the pilot if the next rapid was as bad as the one just past and other similar enquiries, to all of which the guides reply in the negative, a slight deviation from the truth, made justifiable by the circumstances; for the pilot cannot steer a boat to advantage unless she is under good headway and to get that you have to pull with might and main, something the greenhorn is not likely to do if he thinks he is going to strike a rock in the middle of his exertions. All the parties got through in safety, with one exception, namely the Keighley party, who are now three miles above the gas springs, 16 miles below the Grand rapids, drying their outfit. They were steering their own boat and following the Hudson's Bay Co's boats, when they struck a stone and tore a hole in the bottom of their boat on the starboard side. They beached her and are now drying up after which they will continue. When McMuray was reached, a happier lot of men it would be hard to find, laughing, shaking hands and congratulating each other on their safe arrival. And to see the natives stare when the fleet of boats arrived and the rush of men trooped up to the Hudson's Bay Company's store to post letters and make a few purchases. Its hard to tell what they thought, but they were certainly too dumfounded to speak, merely standing at a safe distance to view the advancing crowd. It was enough to make others besides the natives, stare. Fancy a little hum-drum haulet three hundred miles from civilization, so to speak, dead to the world for half the year and in the other half they perhaps see or hear of a single boat passing down the river. Then of a sudden to have their solitude disturbed and the even tenor of their daily existence outraged by the advent of sixty-three boats and a crowd of men, hilarious with joy at getting safely over the rapids, yelling and dancing in the exuberance of their animal spirits. It would keep a white man guessing to hold his own with his head piece, let alone an Indian. This will be an event for the Indians of Fort McMuray to hand down to posterity and tell of round the fire place while the wind howls down the chimney. This is probably the most peculiar and impressive sight that has ever taken place, or ever will take place, in the history of McMuray. As I had to turn back from McMuray and the pilots did not stay over more than an hour or two, I did not wait behind long enough to see the voyageurs off, but from information picked up since, I think they all got away within forty-eight hours of their arrival, which would be on the 25th of May.

The trip back to Grand rapids overland is an experience that will be uppermost in my mind for many a long day. I understood before leaving McMuray that there was a trail, but like a great many other trails in this north land, it is falsification pure and simple. We left McMuray on the afternoon of the 25th and reached here on the evening of the 28th. No person knows just how far it is because in order to get back to one place to another you cannot travel in a straight line and consequently cannot estimate the distance by the map. It is case of zig-zag, up and down hill, over muskeg and into muskeg and over miles of fallen timber, in itself no small feat. Burnt stretches of country are also met with, in fact every variety of obstacle is encountered. I had been brought up from childhood to believe that the greatest mosquito district in the world was Jersey. It is a mistaken idea. Henceforth I remove my hat to the country between here and McMuray. In that favored region they simply travel in armies and to use a somewhat slang phrase they "don't do a thing to you." I can stop in the writing of this letter and count 100 marks on my hands, neck and face.

The time some of the rivermen make on the return journey seems incredible. They leave McMuray at sun-up, travel till sun-down, spell five and six times to eat and perhaps seven or eight short spells, pack their grub and blankets, and make the distance, nearly 100 miles, in from 24 to 34 hours actual travel. Clark and Kennedy are the fastest travellers by distance in 23 hours and 38 minutes. Your correspondent tried to follow the men whom he was with, on the way back, and as a result he cannot now walk fifteen miles in that many hours and is waiting for a chance to get even on some one.

THE RAILWAY.

Messrs. A. G. Blair, jr. and Geo. McAvity, of St. John, N. B., came in on Friday's train to meet the town council and directors of the old Edmonton District railway and discuss with them the matter of the extension of the railway across the river.

A meeting was held in the council chamber on Saturday forenoon and Mr. Blair in explaining the desires of his company who are the present holders of the charter, stated that they wished to have the agreement with the town as to the extension of the railway, changed in some slight particulars. According to the agreement they had only two years from the date of the agreement, namely until the fall of 1899, to complete the construction of the railway from Edmonton to Athabasca Landing. This was insufficient and they desired an extension of another year, or until the fall of 1900. To this extension the meeting agreed. Another point was: The agreement with the town called for all the workshops of the company to be located in Edmonton. Mr. Blair explained that as the proposed line was one of considerable extent, embracing practically another trans-continental railway, the erection of all their workshops in Edmonton would, in the nature of things, be impracticable. He, therefore, desired to have the word "all" eliminated, on the understanding that Edmonton would get its full share of all buildings of this nature. This alteration, also, was not objected to by the meeting. The next change requested was concerning the station and location. By the original agreement the station site was to be selected by the council and a station of brick or stone costing not less than $5,000 was to be erected thereon by the company. Mr. Blair stated that the extent to which the company proposed carrying the construction of the line would make a $5,000 station inadequate and they would require a much larger one as soon as they had their line in working order, but in the meantime they desired to erect a temporary station. The matter of the station site was also referred to the council adhering to their right of selection of the site. On these last two points no further understanding has yet been arrived at. The Hudson Bay Company at Winnipeg have been telegraphed to by the mayor asking if they would give fifty acres near the race track free for station purposes, and what they would ask per acre for 100 acres in addition and immediately adjoining. Also if they would grant a free right of way over such portion of their land as the railway would traverse in going from the bridge to the race course. Up to the time of going to press no reply had been received by the council who are delaying a conclusion on the matter pending the receipt of such a reply. At their meeting will be held at three o'clock to-day, Messrs. Blair and McAvity return south on to-morrow's train. They intend commencing the construction of the line across the river immediately upon completion of the bridge.

A DAMP, WET DAY...

This is what we are looking for. The crops need it. The streets need it, and we have every reason to hope for rain at an early date

It is not about the crops or the streets we wish to speak, but a means of saving the rainwater when it does come, and one way is to have your eave-troughing done while it is dry. We do this work as well as all other tinnings in a first-class style at reasonable prices.

We do not take back what we said about "Elephant Paints." They are unequalled.

ADDRESS TO REV. MR. DYKE.

On Thursday evening last a large number of the friends of the Rev. J. Dyke assembled at the parsonage to bid him good bye and wish him God speed in his new field of labor.

A very pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of an illuminated address to Mr. Dyke, testifying to the esteem in which both he and Mrs. Dyke were held, and of regret at their departure. The address was accompanied by three handsome pieces of table silver.

Mr. Dyke replied in an appreciative and very appropriate manner, reviewing his work while in charge of the congregation and expressing his continued interest and warmest hopes for its future prosperity.

Appreciation of his faithful work, and the deep regret felt at his removal were voiced by several of the more prominent members of the congregation. They expressed the warmest feelings of regard and the most heartfelt good wishes for his welfare, wherever in the providence of God he may be called to labor in the future.

Refreshments were afterwards served, and a very pleasant evening brought to a close by singing, "God be with you till we meet again."

The illuminated address, which was the work of the Rev. Mother Eulalie, of the convent of F. C. J., was beautifully executed and very artistic. It was greatly admired by all.

Mr. Dyke leaves with his family for Birtle about the end of the week.

NAMAO.

A picnic will be held in a grove near the Methodist church here on Friday afternoon June 24th. Tea will be served at 5 p. m. and ice cream will be sold on the grounds. Games of different kinds will be played and a good time is expected. All are cordially invited. A large number went from here to north Sturgeon last Wednesday where a picnic was held. The weather was perfect and the picnic was a success.

We have had a couple of light rains lately, but a good soaking rain is needed. Several of our farmers have commenced to break, others are holding back hoping for rain to soften up the sod. The measles are here and our school attendance is small in consequence. June 18, '98.

BOWDEN.

Messrs. Moore and Doherty have purchased Alexandria cream separators, and are highly pleased with them. Mr. C. P. Anderson has purchased an American separator, which also gives entire satisfaction. All declare the separator a great saver of time and trouble. Chas. Moore is building a substantial frame house. The Bowden siding has been moved one mile northward to the C. & E. Co's own land. It is expected that a station will be put in shortly. The sooner the better.

Master Guilbat Grant recently arrived from Inverness, Scotland. He is a brother of Chas. Grant and grandson of Mrs. Jas. Ross, of Eagle Creek. We have had several good showers lately and everything seems to indicate that we may expect an abundant harvest this year. June 15, '98.
